Professional profile

Period: 11.11.2019 – 29.11.2019

Position: Web developer trainee

Activities:

- Installing operating systems, hardware debugging and computer repair
- Practicing my PHP, MySQL, CSS and HTML skills in the real world. Developing a web platform from the ground-up by realising both front-end and back-end systems. As a trainee I participated in developer meetings to discuss the progress of the platform.

Location: Dessarollo Web Granada

Period: July 2018- June 2020

Position: Voluntary work

Activities:

- Developing computer algorithms in C++ on a three-month period at Chrominance Company.
- Hardware and software debugging and operating system installation on a five-month period at a local company, Bsoft.

Education

2020- present

Engineering University of Bucharest

Faculty of Electronics, Telecommunications and Computer Science

Finishing my second year of my bachelor's degree.

Current major: Electronical Engineering, telecommunications and IT.

Average grade of first year: 7.15 / 10

Professional aptitudes:

I am familiar with the C++ programming language, and I can develop rather complex tasks. During the "Digital Integrated Circuits" course, I have started to learn and master the Verilog Hardware Development Language. Recently I have started to experiment with Java, for an Android app. Regarding the app, I am using the Figma web platform, of which I am familiarised, to develop the UI/UX part. I have slight experience with the PCB development kit OrCAD, platform that I want to master.

Personal aptitudes:

Based of my voluntary activities during the youth years, I have overcome stressful situations, especially during my three-month period at Chrominance Company. I consider myself a responsible person, who dedicates itself to problem-solving, not problem-avoiding.

Social aptitudes:

I am an open-minded person, looking to meet new people and develop friendships. I believe that I can fit in any work environment and form bonds with my co-workers.

Linguistic aptitudes:

I am fluent in English, with the "Cambridge English Level 2 Certificate in ESOL International (First)" certificate, earned in 2018, to back my claim. It states that I can easily communicate in written or spoken English.

I have basic French skills, just so I can have short conversations with French-speaking individuals.
